Look at what we learned this week!

Z is for zoo was our theme this week in preschool. We accomplished a lot and had tons of fun doing it. The week started off with Ms. Wiepen having us sort our toy zoo animals into groups according to their habitats such as land, water and air animals. Many discussions were had over why a certain animal belonged in the land category and not in the other categories. We learned about flippers, various kinds of tails, wings, fur versus feathers etc.

The week continued with us learning to order objects from largest to smallest. As usual we completed our letter tracing page and had show and tell where we write our items on the board and search for the letter z in the word.

During art we made lions out of paper plates. They turned out super neat and are displayed in our classroom. You should come check them out! We also made alligators out of clothespins which we thought was pretty neat.

The week came to a close with us partnering up to draw our very own zoos on big pieces of paper. Our creativity and imaginations ran wild during this project. On Thursday we made a zoo themed snack. We spread frosting over graham crackers, added some animal crackers and then put licorice over the top to act as the bars on a zoo animals cage.
