Mrs. Heiting's Classroom Newsletter

News for 10/15-10/18

Another week is upon us and we are off to a busy start as always!

This week we are exploring the alphabet further as we move on to the letter "D." In addition to identifying the letters we are also working on the sounds each letter makes.

COLD WEATHER: As the weather becomes increasingly colder, please send your child dressed appropriately for cold weather. We do go to recess at 10:45 in Our theme this week is: D is for Dolls, Ducks, and Dinosaurs! Please bring something relevant to the letter D for show-and-tell this week.

the morning and it has been quite chilly. Many of the students were NOT warm enough with just a sweatshirt at recess. If it is easier for you, gloves/hats can be sent to school and kept in your child's cubby as well. It's hard watching them shiver outside and it's not even that cold yet! Thanks in advance for your cooperation!

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns!

Home Visits/Parent-Teacher Conferences

Each early childhood program is required to conduct two Home Visits each school year. The Home Visit can either be conducted in the family's home OR you may visit with me during parent-teacher conferences. Please keep in mind that parent-teacher conferences are next Thursday, October 25th in the evening. I will send out more information at the end of the week. I am available for either an in home visit or for parent-teacher conferences and want to do what is more convenient for you and your family. If next Thursday does not work for you to come to school, I can also schedule another time to meet. Please consider which you would prefer. THANK YOU!

Meal Time Skills

As you know, we eat breakfast and lunch "family style" in the classroom. This means the children are passing food and portioning their selections themselves. Some things we're working on:

- Sneezing and coughing away from the table
- Not leaving the table until excused
- Sitting, not standing at the table

Website Info

Please check the website (hshawks.com) for updated preschool information! My weekly newsletter is uploaded each week. We also try to submit photos of some activities we are doing in the classroom! We get to spend every day with your child; it's only fair we share with you what we've been up to in the classroom! ☺
